

MANDA BOREALIS

ILLUSTRATOR & GRAPHIC DESIGNER

With over a decade of experience in design and illustration, I've worked with lean start-ups and large corporations. I manage projects from strategy and IA all the way through to development and support. I'm schooled in electronic mass communications, trained in brand development, and fascinated by the culture-changing power of design.

PLAN AHEAD FOR WILD WEATHER

Every year before the storm season starts, we prepare our equipment and crews so we can get your power back on as quickly and safely as possible if there's an outage. You can be ready too:

WHAT TO DO IN AN OUTAGE

Check your circuit breakers or fuse box to be sure the problem is not inside your home. Then call us toll free at 1-877-508-5088 – our automated system will give you the cause of the outage if it's known, and an estimated time when power will be restored. You can also request a call back with updates. For information on larger outages and to watch a video on how we restore power, visit pacificpower.net/outage or rockymountainpower/outage.

STAY CONNECTED WITH SOCIAL MEDIA

Social networks are a reliable and quick way to get news and communicate with family and friends during a power outage or emergency. Follow us on Twitter and Facebook for large or extended outage updates.

KEEP SUPPLIES ON HAND

Make sure you have an outage kit ready with supplies such as ready-to-eat foods, can opener, water, a battery-operated radio, flashlight/lantern, extra batteries, first aid kit and blankets.

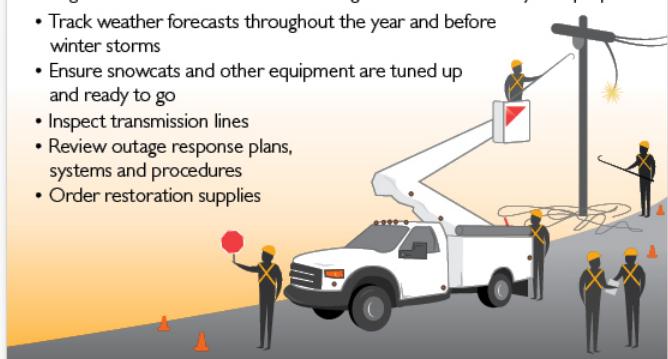

STAY AWAY TO STAY SAFE

If you see a downed power line, call 911 immediately and then us toll free at 1-877-508-5088. Do not touch the line or anything in contact with the line. Do not try to move the line and keep everyone (including pets) away. Always assume the line is energized and dangerous.

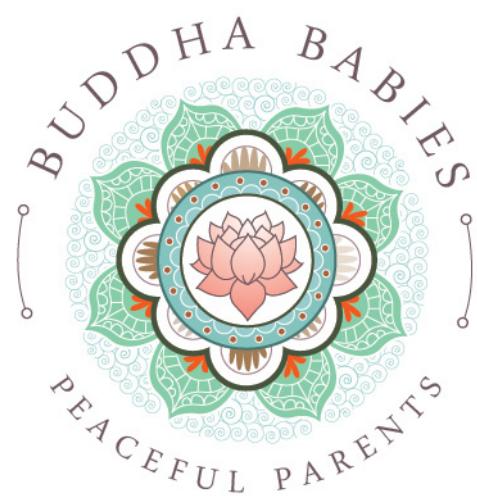

Before winter, we make plans to prevent or limit the severity of power outages – whatever Mother Nature brings. Here are some ways we prepare:

- Track weather forecasts throughout the year and before winter storms
- Ensure snowcats and other equipment are tuned up and ready to go
- Inspect transmission lines
- Review outage response plans, systems and procedures
- Order restoration supplies
